What is a Life Plan Community?

“Life Plan Community” is the new term for what was previously called a “Continuing Care Retirement Community,” or a “CCRC.” Life Plan Communities offer more than one level of care on their campus; focus on overall wellness and a healthy, active lifestyle; and are integrated in the greater community. Just like the fresh, optimistic new outlook of today’s generation of older adults, this new name focuses more on the offering of security, a plan for the future, and focus on the person.

How will I know which community is the right one for me?

When starting the process, schedule a personal tour to visit communities that interest you. fees will be subject to little or no increase other than perhaps inflationary adjustments when additional care is needed. While with Life Care, you may limit your financial risk if future care is needed, but you also are gambling the higher payment for long-term care without knowing whether or not you will require any future services or additional care.

What steps are involved in getting on the wait list and how long is that wait list?

The first step is completing and submitting an application for each person accompanied by a $1,000, fully refundable deposit. Once approved your name will be added to the current wait list. When a residence becomes available the marketing representative will notify the entire wait. The available residence will be reserved based on interest and position on wait list. There is an unlimited right of refusal without penalty for wait list members, so you do not need to worry about losing your place in line on the wait list just because you refuse a certain residence.

What's the time frame for moving once someone has accepted a residence?

A residence in our community is reserved with a 25% deposit of the chosen entrance fee and a signed Residential Living Agreement. At that point, there is an approximate 3-4-month period of time (depending on the extent of renovation) before settling on the remaining 75% of the entrance fee and taking residence.
